LA / WEB

9th Latin American Web Congress

October 22-24, 2014

Call for Papers

LA-Web 2014 is the ninth of a series of refereed international conferences aimed at providing a venue in Latin America for researchers and technologists from around the world to present, demonstrate and discuss the latest Web developments. LA-WEB is endorsed by the IW3C2 International World Wide Web Conference Committee. In 2014, the first day of LA-WEB will hold joint-sessions with SPIRE 2014. We seek novel, innovative, and exciting work in all areas of web research including, but not limited to the following areas:

• Mobility and ubiquitous web access

• Web data mining, search, and analytics

• Multimedia, and digital libraries

• Social media, collaboration, and web communities

• Visualization, interaction, and user interfaces

• Web engineering, performance, reliability and scalability

• Usability, accessibility, and emerging regions

• Security, privacy, and rights management

• Semantic web, XML, and cloud services

• Spam characterization, detection and filtering

• E-commerce, E-Science, and E-government

• E-Learning and rural computing

Papers should describe original, unpublished, high quality research, properly placing the work in the context of the state of the art, and clearly indicating the work's innovative aspects and contributions to the field. Authors may submit full papers (up to 8 pages), or short papers (up to 4 pages). LA-WEB offers a great venue to show exciting new work that is mature (full papers) and work that is at an early stage and can benefit from discussion with colleagues (short papers). All submissions will be evaluated on the basis of originality, quality, and technical contribution.

All accepted papers will be published by CPS and submitted for inclusion in Xplore and CS Digital Library.

Location

LA-Web 2014 will take place in the historic town of Ouro Preto, Brazil. Ouro Preto is located approximately 100 km from Belo Horizonte, the capital of the state of Minas Gerais in Brazil. Famous for its magnificent well-preserved Portuguese colonial architecture, Ouro Preto was the first city in Brazil to be declared World Cultural and Historical Heritage Site by UNESCO. The 18th- and 19th-century churches decorated with gold and Baroque sculptures make the city a prime tourist destination.

Important Dates (approximate):

Paper submission:	May 17, 2014
Notification of acceptance:	July 8, 2014
Camera-ready:	August 9, 2014
LA-Web Conference:	October 22-24, 2014

• Program committee chair:

Jussara Almeida (Universidade Federal de Minas Gerais)

• Local Chairs:

Álvaro R. Pereira Jr. (UFOP)

Fabricio Benevenuto (UFMG)

For more information visit the conference Web site : http://www.decom.ufop.br/Spire-La-Web2014